(South Lake Tahoe) - California College Democrats voted to endorse Dave Jones for Attorney General at their two day state convention this past weekend in South Lake Tahoe.

California College Democrats have chapters in private and public universities throughout California. California College Democrats have seen a surge in membership in the wake of last year's national elections. College Democrats are important leaders and volunteers in Democratic campaigns throughout California.

"California College Democrats are proud to endorse Dave Jones for Attorney General", said Gustavo Barragan, President of the California College Democrats. "California College Democrats are the future of the Democratic Party and we support Dave Jones' progressive vision for Attorney General and California."

"I am very proud to have the endorsement of California College Democrats for my candidacy for Attorney General," said Insurance Commissioner Dave Jones, Democratic candidate for Attorney General. "California College Democrats are the core of California's resistance and provide our campaign for Attorney General with an engaged, active and mobilized volunteer base in every corner of the Golden State."

Insurance Commissioner Dave Jones announced his campaign for California Attorney General in 2015. Since then he has been endorsed by over 70% of the California Democratic Party's central committee chairs, regional directors and caucus chairs. Jones is a proven law enforcement leader who brings a strong record of progressive leadership and successful advocacy for social and economic justice.
